

Your Vigilance, Their Lifeline.

Join the mission to safeguard humanitarian aid for vulnerable communities around the world.

Turn Integrity Into Impact

Looking for dynamic assignments, professional growth, and meaningful work? We have opportunities in a variety of career fields that allow you to make a difference around the world.

From our headquarters in Washington, DC, and regional offices located around the world, we oversee programs that seek to alleviate poverty, provide disaster relief, promote economic growth, and encourage accountable, democratic societies.

Our Diversity Is Our Strength

At USAID OIG, we uplift and celebrate one another. We foster a culture where everyone is valued, respected, and heard. We are committed to advancing our Diversity, Equity, Inclusion, and Accessibility Strategic Plan and embrace diversity in all its forms.

Rewarding Careers

Join our team and help oversee billions of U.S. dollars in foreign assistance. Our audits, inspections, evaluations, and investigations of U.S. foreign assistance programs and operations help ensure aid goes to intended recipients: not into the hands of criminals. OIG's oversight efforts include making recommendations to improve economy and effectiveness in agency programs and to detect and deter fraud, waste, and abuse.

Audits

Our auditors assess the efficiency and effectiveness of foreign assistance programs that provide food, water, shelter, health care, and other critical aid to people in crisis situations.

Investigations

Our special agents investigate allegations of fraud, corruption, sexual exploitation and abuse, and other misconduct involving foreign assistance programs and operations. Our criminal investigators work with their local, state, Federal, and international investigative counterparts and prosecutors to bring criminals to justice.

Management, Administration, and Mission Support

Our business professionals support colleagues across the agency in critical areas such as information technology, human resources, financial management, procurement, law, congressional affairs, organizational development, communications, and other specialties.
