To answer the audit objectives, the audit firm conducted a financial audit that covered costs of $1,096,045 for the audited period.

The audit firm concluded that the schedule of expenditures of USAID awards presented fairly, in all material respects, project revenues and costs incurred under the agreement for the period audited. The audit firm did not identify any material instance of material noncompliance but identified two material internal control weaknesses. The audit firm issued a management letter that had no material issues that required a recommendation.

The report does not include any recommendations for your action.
